

how much time and effort do you put into your look?

i am not as concerned with fashion as i am about modest price and wearability?

how do you feel about shopping?

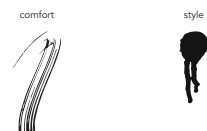

does brand name play an important role to decide your fashion style?

how often do you try out the latest fashion trends?

do you dress for comfort or style?

i think i am fashionable if you could describe your style in one word what would it be?

if you opened your closet what would be the main color palatte?
